

The SIL Group

50 years of Textile Excellence

Where heritage and vision
meet to create textile excellence

From the world's finest fibres to the world's finest fabrics

The SIL Group is proud to be a family-owned business which trades on the international stage and works with the world's most iconic brands. Running a family business has a huge influence on the way we treat all of our clients, business partners, staff and suppliers.

Our passion, technical knowledge and market expertise has seen us grow from a single speciality fibres business into one of the world's largest and most influential textile groups, but we never lose sight of the people who underpin our success.

We specialise in sourcing natural fibres from origins around the world and selling them to a full spectrum of clients who are involved in processing and manufacturing of finest fabrics, accessories, upholstery and finished garments.

We are a vertically integrated group of autonomous businesses which have all developed their own specific expertise and niche within the textile sector.

Our group strength comes from the diversity of our businesses, the stability offered by centralised group support functions and the strategic overview we gain from integrating our market knowledge.

We believe three combined characteristics personify The SIL Group.

Heritage

We respect the centuries of craftsmanship behind our world-class products

Integrity

We value the people we work with and aim to protect their livelihoods and the environment

Vision

We embrace new technologies and production methods when they enhance quality, service and efficiency

This brochure gives you an insight into the exceptional businesses with our Group and highlights how they have forged their own identities and reputations, while maintaining our Group values.

Fibres

Yarns

Seal International is a world leader in speciality fibres - including mohair, cashmere, alpaca, silk, angora, camel hair, yak and vicuna.

Their experienced team travel the world to buy the finest fibres at source and nurture strong and lasting relationships with trusted partners whose values are aligned to their own. Together they achieve sustainability and traceability throughout.

Seal offers a premier-class customer experience - from initial enquiry and sampling to bespoke in-house production capabilities which respond to specific client needs. The family business has traded for three generations and its unstinting focus on quality assurance, reliability and innovation continues to deliver the world's finest fibres.

Our values

The SIL Group was formed by people with a real working knowledge and passion for the textile industry.

Our businesses operate with complete integrity. This means dealing honestly with customers, suppliers, partners and our employees and generating trust and peace of mind throughout our worldwide network.

Many of our finished products can be seen on the catwalks of Paris, London, Milan and New York, in the cabins of the world's leading airlines, in the lobbies of luxury international hotels, and in the shop windows of the most prestigious tailors and retailers.

We have huge international reach, but we never forget that the quality of our products relies on each stage of our trusted supply chain whose welfare is paramount in the sustainable production of the world's finest fibres and cloths.

Sustainability and the environment

We work with natural fibres and our commitment to good environmental practices is entwined in our DNA. The SIL Group's luxury fibres come from certified sources and we maintain sustainable industrial practices within our mills to offer our customers total peace of mind. We are committed to reducing our environmental impact, promoting animal welfare, and preserving our planet's natural resources.

Corporate responsibility

We are committed to creating and maintaining working environments and operational practices that safeguard the health, welfare and safety of our employees and our supply chain. To maintain our market-leading performance, we offer outstanding training and career advancement opportunities to Group employees and aim to retain the most talented people in the textile industry.
